Council sets 1982 budget

By Maralee Dick

The 1982 operating budget for the Town of Drayton Valley approved by council last week was set at $3.6 million, and early indications are local taxpayers could be facing less than a 10 per cent increase in their property taxes this year.

Council has pegged the tax increase at 7.2 per cent, but Town administrator Manny Deol noted this figure was arrived at using only the municipal expenditures as a guideline. It does not take into account calculations from some of the requisitions the town must also pay, he noted, such as the school foundation program; the provincial planning fund; a requisition from the County of Parkland; the separate school levy and the Meridian Foundation bill.

These should be in and calculated into the overall picture before the end of June, he added, which could enable council to set the 1982 mill rates for residential, commercial and industrial property at its next meeting on June 24.

The overall tax increase for residential property should be kept at less than $150 for the majority of homeowners, Mr. Deol said, but there are some industrial property owners who could face substantial increases due to the general assessment carried on in Drayton Valley earlier this year. Some industrial property was receiving a bit of a tax break, Mr. Deol said, as it wasn't assessed to current day market prices, but this has been corrected in the new assessment.

The town's overall assessment figure jumped from the $16.5 million used in 1981 to this year's figure of around $114 million, according to figures released from the Town office on Monday.

The town's 1982 expenditures are down from the $3.8 million it budgeted for in 1981, but its general revenues also dropped—from $2.5 million in 1981 to this year's expected revenues of $2.2 million. Mr. Deol noted this decrease was due to less revenues from equipment rentals not charged to the town.

The town's expected revenues from taxes for 1981 is around $1.5 million, compared to the 1981 figure of about $1.4 million.

Expenditures Up

Council increased expenditures in a number of departments in the 1982 budget. This includes the $208,800 for police services—up from $181,333 in 1981, and the $108,000 for fire fighting and preventive services—up from $82,594 in 1981.

The biggest jump was in ambulance services and first aid up from $4,016 in 1981 to $20,904. Mr. Deol said the increase takes into account the town's $4 per capita share for operating an ambulance service.

Council has budgeted $920,032 for road, streets, walks and lighting—up from its 1981 figure of $666,277. The town's water supply and distribution budget jumped to $359,517 from $259,980, and its budget for garbage collection and disposal increased to $183,820 from $146,226.

The budget also notes increases to the recreation department—from $289,186 this year compared to $223,260 in 1981, and in the library department—from $66,607 in 1982 compared to last year's figure of $63,594.

WELDING Donated Rodeo Programs SAN

EVERGREEN RODEO ACTION comes to Drayton Valley this weekend during Blowout Days. There is sure to be lots of action as cowboys from all over western Canada compete for the honors. This action took place in the bull riding class Friday night at Sangudo. (Photo by Dave Robb)

They've moved donor clinic

Although the date and location may have been changed, plans are still under way for a Red Cross blood donor clinic.

The clinic, which was originally scheduled for June 16, has now been set back until June 21.

The reason for the delay was caused by scheduling conflict at the Legion Hall, said clinic organizer Hy Dahl.

She went on to say that the new blood donor clinic will be held in the Elks Hall on June 21 from 4:30 to 8:30 p.m., and the Red Cross is hoping to find at least 175 donors.

To donate blood, a person must be in good health and between the ages of 18 and 65.

Each blood donation, once received, is stored and taken to a central location where it is separated into its various components. These components include plasma, red blood cells, whole blood, cryoprecipitate platelets and white blood cells.

The whole blood or its components can then be used to treat a variety of health problems. Whole blood is often used in the case of massive hemorrhages or acute blood loss while the components are used in more specialized circumstances.

These include the treatment of anemia through the use of the concentrated red cells or the use of plasma to help treat burns. There are also many other uses for the components such as cryoprecipitate or clotting factor concentrates in the treatment of hemophiliacs and white blood cells for leukemia patients.

Lots to eat at Blowout Days

By Roxanne Crossley

Those who are interested in good food will be pleased to know that this year's Blowout Days offers enough fine fare to satisfy even the most epicure tastes.

Several local groups will be offering meals in conjunction with this year's Blowout celebrations beginning on June 12. The United Church will kick off the event with a pancake breakfast at the curling rink.

The breakfast will begin on Saturday at 7 a.m., and run until 1 p.m. with a hearty meal of pancakes, bacon and eggs, sausages and coffee.

The breakfast is an annual event and has been held in conjunction with the rodeo for the past five years, said one of the organizers, Jack McLean.

Mr. McLean added the breakfast is $3.50 for adults with a reduced price for children under 12 years of age.

The United Church breakfast will also be held on Sunday morning from 7 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Later in the day there will be a chuckwagon dinner at the Senior Citizens' Drop-In Centre. The dinner, which is provided by the Senior Citizens' Club of Drayton Valley, will be available following the parade on Saturday.

The chuckwagon dinner is $3.50 per person and includes wieners, potato salad, beans, buns, ice cream, waiters and coffee or tea, said one of the organizers, Adeline Duckett.

Mrs. Duckett went on to say that the dinner is an annual event and has gone on for a number of years.

She added that the dinners will be available as soon as the parade is over and the group will continue to prepare meals as long as people are coming in.

Then on Saturday evening the Kinsmen will be holding a barbecue in the Lions Park from 4 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Unlike the other two groups, this is the first project that the Kinsmen have had in conjunction with Blowout Days.

"We're just hoping our fingers crossed that it doesn't rain," said one of the organizers, Dave Barrett.

Mr. Barrett went on to say that the Kinsmen will be charging by the plate. However, the fee has not yet been decided. It will be as "low as possible," said Mr. Barrett.

He added that the meal will include roast beef, baked potatoes, beans and a bun.

H.W. Pickup sends 110 pupils to high school

By Roxanne Greenley

A banner proclaimed that it was "The Best of Times" and perhaps it was for the 110 Grade 9 students who took part in last Friday's graduation ceremonies at H.W. Pickup School.

Over 350 people filled the school auditorium to listen as guest speakers congratulated the students and wished them success.

According to Marv Tkachuk, area superintendent of schools, the graduation reminded him of the saying that it is hard to soar with eagles when one works with turkeys. He added, however, that there were few turkeys in the audience but rather 110 eagles.

Mr. Tkachuk went on to say that at times the previous nine years must have seemed like an endurance test for parents, students and teachers with graduation at the end of the road.

Graduation, however, is not the end as major changes will still occur with students having to make choices on learning how to be a winner or a loser, he said.

These choices include carefully choosing friends, picking courses that will help their future training and choosing what to put in their minds, said Mr. Tkachuk.

"You must make a conscious choice of those things which will enrich your well being," he said.

He warned that each choice also has a consequence which one should be prepared for.

Mr. Tkachuk added that in three years time "I hope to see 110 winners walk out of Frank Maddock High School as I see 110 winners walk out as grads tonight."

Following Mr. Tkachuk's speech, various toasts were proposed not only to the students but also to the teachers, parents and school board.

Parade needs more local entries

By Maxine Dick

Shrovest Day organizers have been receiving entries over the past week for this Saturday's parade through Drayton Valley, but they still need more to ensure the event will not be met with numerous last-minute problems.

Organizer Sheldon Fuson said the parade committee has received about 27 entries thus far, but he noted he's anticipating "a whole lot more last-minute entries."

Unfortunately, these are not going to make a job of lining up entries Saturday morning any easier, and Mr. Fuson said he would like to see more entries either mailed or brought to the Town Office this week.

The committee has chosen nine different categories for the parade entries, including commercial; novelty; marching groups; industrial; antique; equestrian; bicycles; bands and agricultural classes. Plans are presently under way to award prizes to the best entries in these categories, he added.

The parade starts at 11 a.m., but entrants are asked to line up just off 47th Street, on either 44th or 48th Avenues. This area is almost directly behind the Dodson shopping mall, and entrants are asked to begin lining up after 10 a.m. to be in place for the judging.

At 11 a.m. the parade will move up 43rd Street by the Frank Maddock High School, and will then turn left to proceed down 50th Avenue by St. Anthony's School. The parade will continue along 50th Avenue to a right turn onto 50th Street, and will then swing left onto 51st Avenue to proceed in front of the Town Office.

The parade will then swing right onto 52nd Street by the Provincial Building, and continue along this route making a right hand turn onto 52nd Avenue. It will move along 52nd Avenue making a left hand turn back onto 50th Street by the Drayton Valley Hotel, and continue along this route until its disbandment at Industrial Road.

Special guests for the procession will include past mayors of Drayton Valley as honorary parade marshals, and the Can McNaughton pipe band from Edmonton. The band will also give a short concert in Rotary Park directly following the parade.

No break on tax deadline—council

It appears local residents won't be getting a deadline break on their 1982 tax payments to the Town of Drayton Valley, following a decision by council made at last week's regular meeting.

Mayor Bob Mayhew requested council consider extending the current time frame by two weeks, giving local residents 30 days from the mailing date and a two-week extension in which to pay taxes.

"This way there could be no arguments that we haven't given the public every leniency possible for paying their taxes," he added.

But council vetoed his suggestion, noting that specific deadlines for payment are a fact of living nowadays. A motion made by councillor Jim Wolff referring the matter to the general government services committee for further study was defeated, as was a motion calling for implementation of the extension as requested by the mayor.

"Youth is the trustee of posterity"

Benjamin Disraeli
(1804-1881)

Every generation has recognized its young people as its best investment in the future.

Today, we realize even more what an important role our young people play in this province.

Twenty-one years ago, our two investor-owned electric utilities, Alberta Power and TransAlta Utilities, initiated the Alberta Junior Citizen of the Year Awards to recognize the contributions made by Albertans between the ages of six and 18.

Since then, with the cooperation and support of Alberta's weekly newspapers, the Junior Citizens program has honoured more than 300 young people, including 25 groups, for their contributions to their communities.

Help us find the special young Albertans who, through their initiative and responsible actions, are proving to be trustees of posterity and deserving of the title Alberta Junior Citizen of the Year.

Road raises ruckus

By Roxanne Gronsky

County and Drayton Valley residents have been experiencing problems with a dead end road which runs behind McKenzie Avenue.

The road, with its increased traffic and backed up ditches, was a matter which was brought up last Thursday at a County of Parkland council meeting held in Drayton Valley.

According to Herman Dusterhoft, one of four county residents who use the road to gain access to his acreage, the problems with the road have been going on for as long as he has lived there.

He went on to say that much of the problem lies in the fact that people living on McKenzie Avenue are using the road to gain back access to their lots. The homes in the area were not zoned for this type of entrance.

This means there is increased traffic along the road and that people living on McKenzie Avenue have been building bridges and putting culverts across the ditch which is behind their home.

When there is a rain it then creates a problem with flooding as the water in the ditches is trapped by the culverts and bridges.

At the present time, the County of Parkland maintains the road by ploughing it in the winter and keeping it gravelled in the summer. The ownership, however, lies with both the town and the county.

"Half the road is on town property and the other half on county. It's a schmoozle," said county councillor Maurice McCullagh.

He added that the road is a problem which seems to flare up every few years.

The Town of Drayton Valley, after discussing the problem with the county, said that they were aware of the problem. The issue may come up at the next council meeting, said Town manager Manny Deol.

Consortium to host official opening on 18th

By Roxanne Gronsky

Plans for the official opening of the Pembina Educational Consortium on June 18 and 19 were discussed at a meeting of the consortium board last Wednesday night in Drayton Valley.

The opening of the Drayton Valley consortium is expected to begin at 8:30 p.m. on June 18 with a ribbon cutting ceremony. Guests at the event will include Jim Horsman, minister of Advanced Education and Manpower, MLA Shirley Cripps, a member of the Drayton Valley town council, as well as members of the consortium board and representatives from the various educational institutions which make up the consortium.

Consortium co-ordinator Brian Minisky said in addition to the ceremonies there will also be displays concerning some of the courses.

On June 19, the educational consortium will be hosting an open house with everyone invited to drop in, said Mr. Minisky.

Displays at the open house will include computers as well as equipment used in distance learning programs. A display of educational television will be brought in via satellite.

There will also be information on the type of courses which can be obtained through the consortium. Career counsellors will be on hand to talk to people about the various courses and the types of financial assistance which is available to students, said Mr. Minisky.

Projects Under Way

In addition to arrangements for the official opening, discussions at last week's meeting also included some of the projects which are currently under way at the consortium.

One of these projects is a needs assessment survey for the consortium region, an area which can be found in a 25-mile radius around Drayton Valley.

The survey will give the consortium more information about the people who live in the area and what they expect of the consortium.

Three students from the research department of Grant MacEwan College have been hired to prepare a questionnaire which will be administered to approximately 1,000 people in the local area, said Mr. Minisky.

He added that the data collected and analyzed from this survey will provide the basis for planning at the consortium for the next three to five years.

"We are quite excited about the program," said Mr. Minisky.

He went on to say that the survey will not only be used to gain information on the needs of the area but also to make people more aware of the consortium and the type of facilities which it offers.

THE DAY ISN'T OVER for a member of the County of Parkland Police until all the paper work is done. Eight-year-old Richard Campbell of Lodgepole School found this out last week when he served as honorary Chief of Police. His winning entry in a poster contest during Police Week qualified him for a day's duty at the Drayton Valley detachment.

Our Opinions

Random thoughts

Every once in a while when I sit down at my typewriter to come up with the weekly editorial, I have a lot of random thoughts but no one idea that has made me mad enough to spout off about it for 10 to 12 paragraphs. This has been one of those weeks, so here are a few of the contemplations that have been cruising around for the past few days:

• the recent economic summit conference held in Versailles, France—the one attended by our illustrious prime minister. How grown men and supposedly learned world leaders can waste taxpayer dollars, sitting around yakking for three days straight, and come up with no definite solutions to our economic woes totally escapes me. Whoever said two heads are better than one obviously wasn't referring to a politician.

Pierre Trudeau is generally acknowledged as being quite a statesman, and he carried himself admirably in front of the television cameras, but it's going to be a different story when he arrives home this week. The Opposition parties are looking for what's left of the hair on his head for a scalp, and let's hope for the sake of our shaky financial status as Canadians that they manage to divert his attention to the problems at hand;

• the upcoming rally for the Western Canada Concept party to be held in Drayton Valley on June 16. I'm not about to comment on the meeting itself—I don't agree with a lot of the rhetoric the WCC spouts off about—but I am a little irate about the fact this session is replacing something a lot more vital than political phrases.

The Red Cross was planning to host its annual spring blood donor clinic on the same day and unfortunately in the same location as the already-booked WCC meeting. Since the Legion Hall is only big enough to accommodate one or the other event, a concession had to be, and the blood donor clinic has been rescheduled to June 21 in the Elks Hall.

Too bad—we can live without politics, but not blood! There's a shortage of this commodity now, so take note of the new date for the clinic and plan to attend;

• the stupidity of council's decision not to spray for tent caterpillars. Ughl I wonder if they have any on their properties about town? If not, I'll be glad to send some over from my place.

I thought it was just trees the little beasties were after, until I had a good look at the eavestroughs over my front door and found them crawling with the suckers. Oh well, I guess it's back to the Raid can and the hope they'll find some other place to infest in the next few weeks;

• this weekend's Blowout Days celebration in Drayton Valley. A lot of time and effort has gone into the planning of this three-day event, so get out and enjoy the fruits of these labors. Our map in the B section of this week's paper will give you some idea of the events and their locations.

Perspectives

By Chris Shanahan

Blowout is a popular word in Drayton Valley, but to the uninitiated it can have some strange interpretations. It could be thought the term refers to things other than what Texas firefighter Red Adair would even want to handle.

I remember watching coverage of the actual blowout on television, but I really didn't begin to realize the true magnitude of the oilfield fire until I came here.

Over the years that well-publicized event has given Drayton Valley residents an identity of their own. Blowout has become an integral part of the vocabulary of the area populus, entering into every aspect of life from recreation to food.

My first encounter with a Blowout Burger in a local hotel proved to be rather disconcerting to say the least. I wasn't quite sure I wanted to tackle one, fearing the apparently dreadful after-effects of such a concoction.

As it turned out, Blowout Burgers are good, as are other all-catered meals such as the pipeliner and black gold breakfasts.

The best example of the word's omnipotence is the Blowout Days festivities planned for the weekend. Just the name alone gives the impression it will be more than your average small town gathering.

Blowout Days of past summers have generated their share of tall tales, mostly detailing the extra-curricular activities that took place during those two or three days of frivolity.

Revellers romping through a hotel on horseback is one of the stories of which Blowout legend is made. While there's always plenty of organized activities, the more impromptu ones provide the most colorful storytelling ammunition.

It seems recent Blowout celebrations, especially last year's have lacked the enthusiasm and vitality of the early days. I've been hearing comments like "it's not the same anymore," when townsfolk talk about the present version.

However, this year looks like a good opportunity to revive the community spirit and widespread involvement of old. Being the town's 25th anniversary, Blowout organizers have been working feverishly to ensure the 1982 edition is bigger and better than ever.

While there's the regular events like the rodeo, parade and dance there's many other activities catering to a wide range of ages and interests. Included is the Oil City Music Hall show; a minor baseball tournament; and a motorcycle rally that's expected to draw riders from across the province.

Just the parade alone, with its theme of "Life in Drayton Valley," should be enough to stir some public interest. Think of the possibilities for a float design that come from indigenous items like gum boots, down vests, pump jacks, pickup trucks and mud.

When you look at the lineup of events, it's difficult to use the excuse "it's the same old thing," to explain your apathy. There'll even be a pipe band in the parade, and they'll blow a few Scottish ballads in Rotary Community Park afterwards.

There's the added incentive that Blowout Days is actually a birthday party acknowledging Drayton Valley's incorporation as a town. It's not often we get to partake in a landmark occasion like this—usually every 25 years or so.

If everybody turns out, it looks like this could be the beginning of a new era for Blowout Days. And who knows, there may be a few more captivating tales born out of the weekend's festivities.

Other Opinions

WCC is getting a lot of ink.

Here's a national story based in town and hamlet. Most of the big political news comes out of Ottawa or a provincial capital. Western Canada Concept, on the other hand, is real down-home stuff. It's country folk who attend the rallies, and display those signs.

On my way into a spring boil sale I make note of the bumper stickers. On an Alberta pick-up the message is "Give the East Trudeau; give the West freedom." A horse trailer from Saskatchewan carries one that says: "I'll push this rig a mile before I'll fill it up at Petro-Canada."

WCC has been stimulated. The results from Olds-Didsbury send Alberta organizers into the hinterland. In Saskatchewan there are 49 WCC candidates in the election. In Manitoba there's now a WCC sparkplug, Max Oertli, a Pacific Western Airlines supervisor transferred from Calgary to Winnipeg. He organized a rally and 250 attended.

The central theme in the hard news department is that WCC can coax people to attend public meetings. A hundred brave a blizzard at Unity. At Trochu 45 plow through snowdrifts to buy $10 memberships. At Vulcan it was 200, and the same number at Peace River. At Cochrane it was 187, at Melville 225.

As I analyze the stories I develop a suspicion that WCC enthusiasts are playing down that talk of separation. They indulge mainly in Ottawa-bashing. Favorite targets are Trudeau, bilingualism, metric and Emergency Planning Orders.

Another topic is the lack of western representation in the federal government. This one puzzles me deeply. With the exception of two Liberal seats in Manitoba, all other constituencies support the federal opposition. Westerners made a conscious decision to oppose Trudeau. Having done so, can we now complain about being left out? I say that's like shooting your parents, then asking for an orphan's pension.

Editors study WCC efforts. Eckville Examiner says: "Western Canadians who talk about separatism are doing so in desperation with what is happening with the Canadian government." The Vulcan Advocate is clearly dubious, with its editorial headed, "Inauspicious Start Here." Too much of the local rally was "devoted to long drawn-out offerings by selected and voluntary speakers whose message was sometimes off the subject and often poorly presented."

A positive stand is taken by the Cochrane Times, which sees a few ex-Socreds and at least 15 former Tories joining WCC as the next official opposition in Alberta, a body "that won't be afraid to take a bite out of the government." Here's the final sentence of that editorial, " ... the number of people turning out in droves to join the party makes us think that maybe, just maybe, the WCC will turn out to be right!"

There are strong words in the St. Albert Gazette. Richard Doherty told a packed hall that after separation, because the West has only 27 per cent of the population but produces 50 per cent of the gross national product, our new Western dollar will be worth $1.20 U.S. There will be no subsidies to special interest groups, and there will be social programs only for those in real need who cannot work.

Recreation

Rodeo feature event

By Chris Shanahan

The Lions Evergreen Rodeo will be the featured attraction of Blowout Days—a weekend of activities celebrating Drayton Valley's 25th anniversary.

It will be held in the rodeo grounds at West Valley Park on Saturday and Sunday (June 12 and 13) starting at 1 p.m.

Events include saddle bronc riding, bull riding, steer wrestling, calf roping, bareback riding, team roping, boys' steer riding and ladies' and junior barrel races.

Pony chariot and chuckwagon races will go both evenings at 7 p.m. A rodeo dance is set for the arena on Saturday starting at 9 p.m., while a pancake breakfast at the curling rink will feed hungry rodeo fans on Saturday and Sunday.

Admission for each day is $4 for adults and $2.50 for children and senior citizens. This includes both afternoon and evening performances.

Rodeo organizer Ross Lyle said the events will basically be the same as last year, but there "may be a few features thrown in during intermissions." He wouldn't elaborate on the extra attractions.

Total prize money of approximately $9,000 is up for grabs, and Mr. Lyle said he's expecting crowds as big or bigger than last year's record attendance.

Mr. Lyle said he's hopeful the field of competitors will be headed by Drayton Valley's Clayton Hinse—the Canadian Saddle Bronc Champion. A number of other well known cowboys are also expected to take part, he added.

According to Mr. Lyle, the rodeo midway will have more variety this year, possibly including some "local challenges" such as a Kinsmen crank tank. There will be the "typical small town rodeo fare" of rides and games, he said.

Association holds minor tourney

The executive of the local minor ball association is hoping for a field of 28 teams for its Blowout Days tournament on Saturday.

The association has already confirmed 23 clubs, but it's hoped they can round out the pack to 28 by June 12. Teams will be representing Wildwood, Entwistle, Warburg, Winfield, Lindale, Andrew, Drayton Valley and possibly Mayerthorpe.

Games will start at 9 a.m. for teams in seven and eight years Mixed, Mosquito boys and girls, and Bantam boys and girls. Other playing times for these divisions will be noon, 3 p.m. and 4 p.m.

Beavers will hit the field for tournament action at noon, 2 p.m. and 4 p.m. Games will be held on diamonds at West Valley Park, and Eldorado, Elementary B, H.W. Pickup and St. Anthony Schools.

Ken Greaves, president of the Drayton Valley Minor Ball Association, said he hopes the Blowout tournament will become an annual event. Only T-Ball teams from the local association aren't involved in this year's event, mainly because of their young age, he added.

Oilers set OBL pace

Drayton Valley Oilers kept their undefeated record intact last Thursday, toppling D&S Drillers 16-7 in Oilfield Baseball League (OBL) play.

Easyford Colts also won their only game last week, dumping Alexis As 7-2 in Alexis.

Oilers top the OBL standings with a record of four wins and no losses, while Colts stand second, with three victories and one defeat.

While the score was top-sided in the Oilers-Drillers contest, D&S manager/coach Lorry Deacy said he was encouraged by his young team's improved play.

He feels Drillers are "just starting to catch on, and this was evident against the Oilers, as they gave the league-leaders their toughest competition this season.

In an earlier game on June 1, Drillers clipped Winterburn 6-5 to register their first victory of the young OBL campaign.

In the OBL last night (June 8), Oilers hosted Easyford at West Valley Park, and D&S Drillers travelled to Alexis. On Thursday, Oilers play in Alexis, while Easyford goes to Winterburn.

Fish derby coming

By Chris Shanahan

It's sure to be an angler's delight at the 12th annual Buck Mountain Fish Derby set for Buck Lake on June 11, 12 and 13.

The derby, regarded as one of the largest in the province, will have about $2,400 in prize money. Last year's derby attracted over 800 registered fishermen, and hundreds more casual anglers.

Lee Hanson of the Breton Fish and Game Association, the derby sponsor, said interest has been high again this year, and he estimated there could be as many as 1,000 registered entrants.

Fishing will get under way on Friday at 7 a.m., and will continue all day Saturday, winding up on Sunday with the awards presentation at 6 p.m. The government campsite on the south side of Buck Lake will be used as the registration and official weigh-in point.

Entry fee is $5 per person and $15 per family. Registrations will be accepted up to Sunday's closing, and times of entry will be recorded to ensure the validity of all catches.

Mr. Hanson said while there have been record catches of Walleye as large as 4½ pounds, Pike will be the derby's main attraction.

Wiebe stings Devon

By Chris Shanahan

Herman Wiebe stung the opposition batters last Thursday with a near flawless performance on the mound.

The hurler led Drayton Valley to a 4-1 victory over Devon Stingers in Sturgeon Men's Fastball League (SMFL) action at West Valley Park. Biggers' record to date is four wins and two losses.

Wiebe displayed a combination of speed and control on his pitches that handcuffed Devon through seven innings. Bigger coach Jerry Harvey said it was the best he has seen Wiebe pitch in two seasons.

Devon by no means rolled over and played dead in the entertaining match-up. They forced Biggers to come up with some excellent fielding plays to support Wiebe.

Drayton Valley began to build their margin in the fourth inning when Gordy McDermott's single scored Gary Hanson from second. In the fifth, Wayne Hawkes and Earl Nixon both had RBIs to boost the Bigger lead.

Biggers threatened in the late stages, but Wiebe held on for the win, locking up the defensive player-of-the-game nomination. McDermott got the offensive nod.

Two-hit performances came off the bats of Hawkes, Nixon, Hanson and Carl Hogan to pace the local fastballers' offensive attack.

In a wide open affair played in Devon on June 1, Biggers were victimized 11-9 by the Tomahawks.

Drayton Valley was in command in the early innings, but they lost it with two costly errors which scored three Enoch runs.

Harvey said it was a hitter's contest which his team could have taken if they had really wanted to win. However, he felt they didn't come to Enoch prepared to play ball.

"They seemed more concerned with what the other team was doing, then with what they were doing themselves," Harvey commented. The coach had a talk with the team prior to the Devon game, where he advised them "just how well they can do when they put their minds to playing ball."

Biggers were on the road yesterday (June 8) to play Spruce Grove G&C, and they return to the Grove tomorrow (June 10) to face the hometown Drapers. Their next home date is June 15 when they host Garden Valley.

SAILING OVER THE bar, this competitor makes a successful high jump at the zone track and field meet held at St. Anthony School last Friday. Athletes from H.W. Pickup, St. Anthony, Tomahawk, Seba Beach and Entwistle attempted to qualify for the upcoming County finals.

Piskunowicz qualifies first

Paul Piskunowicz of Drayton Valley is the first local competitor to qualify for the Alberta Senior Games in Camrose on July 13, 14 and 15.

Mr. Piskunowicz won the Zone 5 checkers playoff held in Barrhead last Friday.

A total of 14 seniors took part in the Area 7 horseshoe playoffs hosted by Tomahawk on June 2. The following competitors have qualified for zone play: Elsie and Lloyd McLean of Whitecourt; Henry Metzger of Drayton Valley; Wilf Shane of Drayton Valley; Archie Dewey of Whitecourt; and Jim Hall of Seba Beach.

The Zone 5 horseshoe playdown will take place on June 21 in St. Albert.

Zone 5 curlbags was played in Spruce Grove on June 3, but no local competitors qualified for the Camrose finals.

The Senior Citizens' Drop-In Centre in Drayton Valley will be the scene of the Zone 5 four curling round on June 15. The final Area 7 playoff in golf, to be held at the Pineridge Golf Course in Seba Beach on July 11. For more information or to register contact Olive at 542-2971 or Mary at 542-3882.

Over 100 in motorcycle rally

As many as 125 riders are anticipated for a motorcycle poker rally being staged in conjunction with Drayton Valley's Blowout Days.

The rally will run both Saturday and Sunday (June 12 and 13), winding approximately 550 miles all on paved roads in the area. Entry fee is $25 per rider, with the poker pot being divided among the top four or five hands.

It starts Saturday from the Black Gold Inn at the competitor's leisure. On departure, riders will head to Alder; south to Sylvan Lake; west through Rocky Mountain House; east to the North Saskatchewan River crossr; north to Jasper, Hinton, Edson and Entwistle; and then south back to Drayton Valley.

A banquet will be held for all entrants at the Black Gold Inn on Sunday at 3 p.m. It will feature a steak and lobster meal.

Organizer Larry Ewart stressed it's a participation rally, and definitely not a race of any type. It will provide a chance for riders to see some nice scenery on the way, he added.

For further rally information, contact Ewart at Trace and Wheels at 542-4554; or at home, 542-4927.

Evansburg diskers perform well

By Mary Cumming

It was a day of activity at Heritage Home on May 28, after the 9 a.m. registration of six disking teams—three from Drayton Valley and three from Evansburg—in the Black Gold/Yellowhead Seniors' Association Zone 6 playoffs.

With only two men's teams, they played the best out of three games with the Evansburg team skipped by John Wilson taking first place. The members of his team were George Tuttle as third, Harold Beynon, second, and Bill Brenentahl as lead.

The Drayton Valley team which came second was skipped by Albert Martin

Coutu takes high school golf championship

Tim Coutu of Frank Maddock High School won the boys' north central zone golf championship in a recent competition. He shot a score of 76 to capture the title.

Other strong efforts from local high school golfers included Richard Thiel who placed fourth in the boys' division, and Laurie Gawalko who came fourth in girls' competition.

Another Frank Maddock team member, Jim Snelgrove, received an award for sinking the longest putt of the tournament.

Since two teams qualify to advance to the zone playoffs at Ardrossan on June 9, these two men's teams will participate. Winners at zone playoffs will go on to compete in the Seniors' Summer Games at Camrose in July.

The ladies' games were played round robin with the Alice Grant team of Evansburg placing first by winning all their games. The other members of her team were Kate Young as third, Evelyn Hutchison as second and Mary Cumming lead.

The Hilda Rand team of Drayton Valley placed second and she was assisted by Marjorie Brennan as third, Adaline Duckett as second and Anna Pawluk as lead.

These two teams will also advance to the zone playoffs.

It was a long day with the final games being completed after 9 p.m., but we extend thanks to the behind-the-scenes people who kept the coffee pot full and the sandwiches and goodies on hand.

Entwistle came to Drayton Valley on May 31, and were hogtied 33-24 by the Devils.

On June 1, Drayton Valley Angels travelled to Evansburg, where they were nipped 26-24 by the hometown club.

The Angels and Devils clashed in Drayton Valley on June 2, with the Devils pulverizing their opponents 33-19.

RCMP check damage—youth sentenced

Drayton Valley RCMP are currently investigating an incident in which one vehicle was damaged at a farm in the Rocky Rapids area.

Unknown persons went onto the grounds of the Dennis McGinn residence early Sunday morning and started one of the vehicles. They took the 1979 Ford Bronco and drove it through a locked gate causing extensive damage to the vehicle, said RCMP.

The thieves then got the vehicle stuck so they returned to the yard and stole a 1970 Chevrolet flatdeck truck which they also got stuck.

RCMP seized some physical evidence at the scene and are continuing their investigation into the incident.

Battery site vandalized

A battery site owned by Texaco Resources was vandalized over the weekend of May 29 and 30.

According to police, the site, which is located south of Violet Grove, received little damage other than the gate and post being shot with a rifle.

A 17-year-old Drayton Valley youth received sentencing on June 3 at Drayton Valley provincial court in connection with several charges of break, enter and theft.

Allan Gordon Fowler received three years probation and five and one-half years in jail in connection with numerous thefts as well as break and enter charges.

According to Drayton Valley RCMP, Mr. Fowler received three years probation in connection with charges of break, enter and theft at the B and W Dairy King on May 14.

He was charged with an $800 theft from a Drayton Valley residence; the attempted theft of a vehicle from Sunshine Ford and passing forged documents. Each of these three charges netted him an 18-month jail term.

Mr. Fowler also was charged with possession of a narcotic and with obtaining accommodation by fraud and will receive six month jail terms in connection with each of these two charges.

Five head of stray cattle were captured last Friday just north of Drayton Valley by local RCMP.

The cattle, which consist of two cows and three black and white face yearling heifers, are presently being held under seizure. If no one claims the animals within the next 10 days, then they will be sold at public auction.

Anyone with more knowledge concerning these cattle is asked to contact the Drayton Valley RCMP.

Council to provide space

During the regular meeting held last Thursday, County of Parkland council:

• agreed to provide the Drayton Valley Historical Society with temporary space in the County of Parkland building.

County councillor Maurice McCullagh recommended that the group be allowed to use the southeast corner of the Drayton Valley building during office hours. The society will be able to use the facilities rent-free with their lease being reviewed yearly;

• reported that no progress had been made by the public works committee on the request for construction of an access road on the north west 36-49-9-5. This property is owned by Roman Vovk of Drayton Valley;

• discussed a recommendation by County police that overweight permits for small business operators be issued over the telephone.

This means that the operators will not have to go to the county office for their permits but rather may phone the police. This gives the police the opportunity to re-route operators from banned roads or roads which may be trouble spots;

• agreed on a route for a 600 kv power transmission line which TransAlta Utilities want to build between Keephills and northwest Calgary.

The route which was chosen will run south of Keephills following an existing power transmission line in the county.

Town to examine parking, traffic problems

Among noteworthy items discussed at last week's meeting of the Drayton Valley council, the following were included:

• the defeat of a motion calling for implementing parallel parking in front of the Drayton Valley library, to replace the present angle parking. Councillor Howard Olsen said the current parking posed a safety hazard for vehicles backing out of the angled spots, and for traffic turning onto 51st Avenue from 51st Street.

But Mayor Bob Mayhew said the location was much busier for traffic when the library building was in use as the town's post office, and added he has not received any accident complaints from this location.

Councillor Jim Wolff said he would like to see the issue raised in association with the protection services committee, and to have this group examine the town's total traffic picture prior to making any decisions.

"We can't make an overall decision on parking and the like based on piecemeal bits," councillor Wolff noted.

Council also moved to take another look at the town's traffic study, prepared about a year and a half ago, in a joint meeting with the protection services committee and the authors of the study;

• accepted as information a revised schedule for administration concerning the paving of 50th Street south. The updated schedule will see tenders advertised on the project this month with awarding of the project to a successful bidder in early July.

Construction is slated to begin in mid-July and continue to a 90-day completion schedule.

Council also accepted as information a report from councillor Alex Sail on the recent tour of swimming pool facilities in central Alberta, and a report noting the Recreation Board will look into recent vandalism damage at West Valley Park to prevent recommendations to council.

Council referred to administration a decision concerning the noon hour operation and opening of the town office, and will hear a report on the operations of the landfill site at its next meeting on June 24.

Nocking point important feature to archer

By George M. Mathews

To complete this session on arrows; how to match them to your bow and match them to your use, I would like to discuss some seemingly insignificant things which are really quite important.

Nocks and Nocking Points

That little plastic fixture on the end of an arrow which fits onto the string is called a nock. It is a very important part of an arrow and there are some things an archer ought to know about it.

The "nocking point" or the place where the nock fits onto the string is very important to the archer.

There are little brass split rings which are made to fit onto the string and clamp securely there. By using them rings the archer will have the arrow placed on the string at the exact same spot from shot to shot.

The best place to start out with a nocking point is 1/8" above a line from the arrow rest back to the string.

Take a ruler or better still a T-square to mark a point on the string which is perpendicular to the arrow rest. Make another mark 1/8" above this point. Now fasten the nocking point on this spot. Keep in mind, of course, whether you will place the arrow above or below the nocking point.

A little experimenting with nocking points can certainly help fine tune your bow. If you know your arrows are correct for your draw length and bow weight and they continue to "porpoise" or wiggle up and down during flight, the problem may well be a nocking point which is too low.

Bjorn Nocks are Best

I do so like to categorically say one particular brand of thing is better than another. In the case of nocks, however, I think I am safe in saying that Bjorn nocks are the best.

The Bjorn nock has a very streamlined appearance which seems to flow naturally into the lines of the arrow. It has no sharp bumps to catch on finger tabs or releases and this sure aids in a smooth release.

The big thing about Bjorn nocks, though, is that they are made of a flexible plastic which can be pinched tighter in order to hold onto the string.

If the nock fits loosely the archer simply clamps it closed with his teeth.

The advantage of this is that the archer does not need to hold the arrow on the string to keep it from falling off. The Bjorn nock snaps onto the string and stays there. The fit is not so tight, however, that it hinders the release of the arrow from the string.

Bjorn nocks come in a variety of sizes and colors. Fluorescent nocks are nice for the hunter because they are a little easier to find in the bush or grass.

Another important thing to consider is the type of fletching or feathers available to the archer.

Feathers or Plastic

Fletching plays a very important role in archery. It is the fletching which stabilizes the arrow after it leaves the bow.

The archer encounters problems with fletching and it is something he ought to know something about.

Fletching for target archery is usually 5½ to 8 inches long and feather-fletching seems to be the softest shooting.

IN target archery the tips or points of the arrow are small and the arrows are light. They do not need large feathers.

As a matter of fact top tournament archers can shoot very well indoors using super-tuned tackle, flawless technique and arrows with no fletching at all.

Bow hunters need fletching at least 5 to 5½ inches. The broadhead demands the larger fletching so the arrow will stabilize.

As far as the type of fletching, it would seem "plastifletch" is the most logical choice. Wet weather will not destroy their action and they can stand more abuse than feather fletching.

One further type of fletching to mention for the bow hunter is the flu-flu fletching. Flu flu fletching allows the bow hunter to shoot an arrow into the air at full draw and easily retrieve his arrow.

Fired from a 65-pound compound bow a flu-flu arrow may get to 40 yards. They are suitable for such things as a partridge sitting in a tree.

Flu flu fletching is simply fletching which is a great deal larger than normal, there is also a lot more of it and it is the wind resistance on the fletching which prevents the arrow from going far.

Next week I would like to discuss the various broadheads and nocking. That will wrap up this marathon section on archery.

Class of 1972 gathers again

By Lois Dyck
696-2284

On May 29 former students and teachers of the class of 1972 gathered to celebrate the 10th anniversary of finishing school. Of the 12 graduates, nine attended and they were as follows: Wes Oulton, Donna (Bowen) Backus, Edythe (Colby) Greenwood, Carolyn (Young) Vidok, Murl (Darstling) Werning, Calvin Nixon, Irene (Pachulka) Kinben, Myrtle (Nelson) Regenwetter and Lois (Gerwing) Dyck.

Other classmates attending were Rod and Elaine Hansen, Gary Skinner, Barry Lovers, George Zawaritz, Ed Polichuk, Leonard Hedrich, Ben Tyron, Randy Staudt, Susan (Sylvester) Hejnar, Bernie Bower, Jerry Sylvester, Julia (Hansen) Baumann and Ken Nelson.

Their former teachers who attended were: Walter Wynnyk, principal; Roy Stout, vice-principal; Betty Gibbs; Jim Muller; Evan Blower, Judy McKilligan and Lyle Oulton.

Of the group of students, four started together in Breton in 1960, and continued through school for 12 years and then graduated together in September of 1972.

The evening started with a catered supper and Walter Wynnyk said grace. Wes Oulton acted as master of ceremonies for the evening. Each student was asked to give a brief history of their past 10 years.

Following the supper was a dance that was open to all former students of Breton High School.

A lot of old friendships were renewed, and many expressed hopes of getting together again in another 10 years.

One of the graduates missing was Debbie (Vande Voorde) Heidt, who is a patient in the Royal Alex Hospital, awaiting the birth of her twins.

A bouquet of flowers was sent to Debbie from the Class of '72 and the remaining money from the evening will be donated to the Breton High School and will be marked from the Class of '72.

The travelling day camp will be at Funnell from Aug. 2 to 7 starting at 9:30 and running until 4 p.m. On Friday night the parents and families are invited to a special evening program, and will be asked to contribute something towards a pot luck supper.

This will be followed by a campout for the children. The parents must pick up the children by 8 a.m. on Saturday morning.

Your project person for the Funnell travelling day camp is Lois Dyck, and you can contact her after 4 p.m. at 696-2284.

In the school news the Grade 10 boys presently taking Home Economics will be inviting their parents to a barbecue on June 14 at 11:45 a.m. Bring your own steak.

Parents of the Grade 7 Home Economics class are invited to a brunch on June 16 at 10 a.m.

Yearbook pledges are still available from Vera Hawryluk. Any students with books belonging to the Breton High School library are asked to return them. No fines will be charged.

Kelly Heighington of Stettler has been staying at the Theo Westling home for several days. She has been employed by the government taking a traffic survey.

Evansburg notes

By Mary Cumming
727-3517

The evening of May 29 started for the E-E Lions and their wives when they sat down to a pot luck supper at 7 p.m.

The purpose of the evening was to raise funds for the Alberta Arthritic Society, and in order to do this, a public dance commenced at 9 p.m.

Although the attendance at the dance was only fair, the club can give $200 to the Society.

Sunday was another busy day for these men as they had a work bee for a general clean-up at the Evansburg Cemetery.

Another project which needs considerable attention is the children's playground in Evansburg which the group manages. Plans are under way to upgrade the facilities very soon.

Seniors Hold Barbecue

Some 45 persons gathered at Heritage House on May 29 when the Senior Citizens' Association sponsored a barbecue.

After enjoying the meal, the evening was spent in playing cards or disking.

Vander Ploeg to nurse natives of Nigeria

By Edith Deby
542-5451

It is with regret that we learned last week that Kathleen Thomas is leaving the Western Review to work with a newspaper in Stony Plain. I know I speak for many people when I say that her cheerful presence at the front desk of the Review will be greatly missed.

A farewell dinner was held at the Overlander Lodge on May 21 to honor Wilda Vander Ploeg, who is retiring from the staff of the Alberta West Central Health Unit after six and one-half years of service to that organization.

Mrs. Vander Ploeg has joined the Canadian University of Services Overseas (CUSO) and will leave in August of this year on a two-year contract to serve in Nigeria, as a community health nurse.

Bob and Marian MacMillan are in town for a visit with family and old friends. During the summer the MacMillans work at Pioneer Pacific Camp. Marian is a bookkeeper and Bob supervises maintenance of camp buildings.

Later this spring the MacMillans plan a trip to Ontario where both grew up.

Marian grew up in an old stone house in Merrickville which had been in her family for generations and has now been declared an historic site.

Reta Kenworthy, who had the misfortune to break both legs on March 30 in a skiing accident at Lake Louise, has just now been able to go home. Although both legs are in casts, she is able to move about with the aid of a walker and a wheelchair.

Seniors host Blowout dinner

By Jessie Bartlett

In the cribbage game at the Drop-in Centre on May 31, the winners were: ladies' high Bobby Agar, low Edith Norquay, men's high Manuel Reich and low Billy Rose.

We would like to thank Shirley Cripps for the five rose bushes she brought us. Hilda Rand and Albert Martin planted them in front of the Drop-in Centre.

Edith Craig is back home after her operation in the University Hospital but Bill Genick has been quite ill. We wish them both better health soon.

At the area dialing playoffs in Evansburg, Hilda Rand's team qualified to go to the zone playoffs in Ardrossan. Also Albert Martin's men's team. Two teams of Drayton Valley players are in the zone playoffs for floor curling to be held here on June 18.

The furnaces have been moved back and we hope to have the new linoleum laid by then so we can have the proper length of hoses.

There were seven tables for whist on June 3. Winners were: ladies' high Margarite Jaworsky, low Marie Schoepp, men's high Billy Rose and low Cal Bartlett.

The draw for the wall hanging was won by Lillian Ritter of Pickardville, Alta., and the magazine rack by Ken Parker of Drayton Valley.

Don't forget to stop in for chuckwagon dinner at the Drop-in Centre on June 13 right after the parade. There will be all you can eat for $3.50!

REGIONAL ADVISORY COMMITTEE

The Regional Advisory Committee is a group of 12 interested and involved people from throughout the Consortium area who provide recommendations to the Board of Directors about programming needs and priorities in the Consortium. The Regional Advisory Committee is represented on the Board of Directors, along with the institutions. They present an annual plan for programmes and services to Alberta Advanced Education and Manpower for funding.

The Regional Advisory Committee members want to know what YOU want to learn. Phone them, write them, stop them on the street and let them know what programmes you want and how the Consortium can help with your personal or career learning goals.

I have lived in Drayton Valley since 1958. I am active in the business community and various volunteer activities. My interest in the Consortium stems from a long-time interest in education, as I was a trustee of St. Anthony's Separate School Board for many years. I feel the Educational Consortium is a very real benefit for this entire area and will contribute greatly to the educational advancement of everyone whether active in the programme or not.

I represent the Breton area. I first came to Drayton Valley in 1958 to teach in the Elementary School. I moved to the Entwistle District in 1981. I presently teach at the Entwistle School. I [illegible] to utilize the University of Alberta credit courses to help me finish my B.Ed. degree, as I can appreciate the value of having similar credit courses offered locally.

MARY TOURNEUR
727-4187

My job with the Parks and Recreation Department keeps me involved with various community associations throughout the County of Parkland. Involvement with the Pembina Educational Consortium allows me to stay informed about adult education and pass it on to others.

JENNY HATTO
797-3880

I am a representative from the Seba Beach area. I first came to the area in 1968 as a teacher at Seba Beach School. I am presently involved with the kindergarten at Seba Beach. Pasta, rice ideal bases for many casseroles

The Homemaker
by
Janice McGregor

Alberta Agriculture
DISTRICT HOME ECONOMIST

Pasta and rice are the bases for many casseroles. Nutritionally, they are very similar. Pastas contain approximately 155 calories per 250 ml (1 cup) and rice contains approximately 180 calories per 1 ml (1 cup).

They are both easily digested. When served with a complete protein such as cheese, meat, fish, poultry or eggs they are excellent sources of high quality protein. If they are served with legumes such as beans, peas or lentils they form a complete protein complement.

Pastas have a low fat content that is of vegetable origin. Rice contains only a trace of fat, is low in cholesterol and sodium, gluten free, and is non-allergic.

Thiamine, riboflavin, niacin and iron may be added to many pasta products and refined rice to provide nutritional balance. Check the labels carefully before you buy.

Pasta is a general term and is used to describe all the varieties of macaroni, spaghetti and noodles. Durum wheat is essential to the manufacturer of quality pasta products. This variety of wheat, high in gluten, makes a product that holds its shape when cooked and gives it a delicate flavor and golden amber color. When durum wheat is milled, the inner portion of the kernel breaks up into small granules similar to table salt, called semolina.

Water is mixed with semolina to make a stiff dough. In the case of egg noodles, egg yolks are added to the dough in order to fulfill government regulations for four per cent egg solids.

Pasta products come in more than 100 different shapes. They can be classified in five groups:

Long goods - such as spaghetti, spaghettini, long macaroni.

Short goods - such as ready-cut macaroni elbows.

Noodles - such as fine, medium, broad with egg or plain.

Soup base - such as alphabet, oats, stars, rings.

Fancy varieties - such as sea shells (marumelle), bows (fettuccelle), rigatoni, lasagna and manicotti.

Pasta products should be stored in their original package. They will last almost indefinitely, if they are kept tightly covered and away from moisture.

Pasta will almost double in volume when cooked.

Rice may be long, medium or short grain. When cooked, long grain rice is light and fluffy, and grains are separate and distinct. When short or medium grain rice is cooked, the grains are moist and tend to cling together. You can buy rice in the following forms:

Regular white rice has been milled to remove the hull, germ and practically all of the bran. Milling removes some of the vitamins and minerals. To prepare use one part water to two parts rice plus salt. White rice will triple in volume when cooked.

Enriched rice is white rice, plus added vitamins and iron.

Parboiled rice is treated by a special steam-pressure process before milling. This forces the vitamins and minerals from the hull, bran and germ into the starchy part of the grain. Much of the natural vitamin and mineral content is retained after milling. Parboiled rice takes longer to cook than regular rice and requires one part rice to two and one-half parts water. The cooked grains are fluffy, separate and plump.

Precooked rice is long-grain white rice that has been cooked and dried. It takes less preparation time than regular white rice, but costs more. It increases two to three times in volume when cooked.

Brown rice is whole grain rice from which only the hull and a small amount of the bran has been removed. It has a nut-like flavor and slightly chewy texture. Brown rice needs to cook a little longer than regular white rice. It increases three to four times in volume when cooked.

Wild rice is not a true rice, but the seed of a grass that grows wild in shallow lakes and marshes. It is dark brown, distinctive in flavor, and costs considerably more than other types of rice.

Side push-up for posture

By Linda Giroux

As day follows day, there are those special events and special people which somehow stand out like jewels against the embroidery of life. One day it is the discovery of a swallow's nest, or the birth of a kid, or a wild flower unfolding.

Another day, it is a chance meeting with an elderly man or woman who is revealed as a gem in the rough and leaves me feeling humbled by his or her wisdom and knowledge. Always there is that expectation of things which are hidden just beyond the next corner.

We must learn to feel within ourselves rather than to struggle against ourselves. Yoga postures should be done slowly and smoothly as a natural expression of the body's need to stretch and feel.

While most postures can be listed as firming or strengthening one part of the body more than the rest, most are still total body posture. The side push up, for example, while it does strengthen and firm the arms, goes beyond that in being a balance.

Therefore, it requires an awareness of the whole body in the posture.

Begin the side push up by lying on the left hip with the legs extended, right one on top of the left one. Place the left palm flat on the floor, and the right hand in front of the body for balance

Raise the hips so that the body is in a straight line and the weight supported on the left hand and the outside of the left foot. Place the right hand along the outside the of the right leg, or raise it straight up away from the body

For a more advanced variation, raise the right leg, and grasp the right foot with the right hand while holding the posture. Hold five seconds, more or less.

Repeat the side push up lying on the right side.

Stretch for flexibility

By Linda Giroux

There is no age limit for yoga. Develop your own program, and with just a few minutes a day you will notice a gradual improvement in flexibility and endurance.

Unlike some sports and systems for fitness, age is not important.

Front stretching postures strengthen the arms, give a stretch to the front of the thigh, abdomen, chest, [redacted] and jaw. They can be used in place of back bending postures to equalize a forward bend or shoulder stand posture.

For the inclined plane, sit with the legs straight out in front of you. Place the hands behind you with the heels of the hands at the edge of the buttocks. Raise the hips so that the legs are straight and the soles of the feet flat on the floor

The trunk should be in a straight line with the head. Hold for 10 or more seconds, breathing freely, then return to the starting position

For a variation, while holding the inclined plane, raise the left leg as high as you can. Hold for five seconds, then lower the leg, and repeat by raising the right leg as high as you are able to.

For another front stretching posture which works especially on firming and stretching the front of the thigh, begin squatting on the floor. Place the hands behind you with the heels of the hands at the edge of the buttocks.

Lean back, and raise the pelvis toward the ceiling so that the thighs are parallel to the floor. Rise from the heels up onto the toes. Hold the stretch for 10 or more seconds, then return to the starting position.

If at first the postures are just too difficult, continue to try.

Here's how the STEP program operates

The objective of the STEP (Summer Farm Employment Program) is to provide farm work experience for Alberta youth from July 2 through August 31

Any full time Alberta farmer is eligible to employ one youth under the STEP provided the employee is not a member of his/her family (ie. children, grandchildren, relatives, in-laws, etc.) In addition, farmers may not exchange children for this program. Applicants for employment must be at least 15 years of age

Each applicant for employment must also have been a resident of Alberta for the past 12 months and legally entitled to work in Canada. All youth must be employed for a continuous period of at least one month, and may not be otherwise employed while working under this program. Employees must also attend a Farm Safety Seminar provided by Alberta Agriculture.

How It Works

* Applications and contracts can be obtained at Alberta Agriculture's district offices or local Canada Farm Labour Pool offices.

* The completed documents must be mailed to the local Canada Farm Labour Pool office where they will be reviewed. Upon acceptance, the farmer will receive written notification from the Pool. Employment must not commence until written approval is received.

* Because of budget restrictions, applications will be dealt with on a first-come first-served basis, with priority being given to those farmers who did not participate in the Summer Farm Employment Program in 1981.

* Wages for the employee will be negotiated between the youth and the farmer but in all cases must be a minimum of $800 per month When an employee works overtime (in excess of 165 hours monthly) he/she shall be compensated at no less than the provincial minimum wage which as of May 1, 1981 is for those 18 years and over $3.80 per hour and for those under 18, $3.65 per hour.

* The government will be responsible for paying one-half of the employee's monthly salary up to a maximum of $320 (which ever is the least), and the employer's contributions for CPP and UIC. In order to facilitate program delivery, the local Farm Labour Pools will be responsible for administration of the Summer Farm Employment Program. However, the payroll cheques for the government portion will be printed and disbursed by Alberta Treasury, Edmonton. As well, T-4 slips and separation certificates will be issued by the government (for July-August only).

* At the end of each calendar month, the farmer will pay his share of the month's wages directly to the employee. Then a time sheet and receipt will be completed and signed by both farmer and employee. This document will be submitted to the local Farm Labour Pool office to apply for the government share of the wage (forthcoming in three to four weeks).

* The government of Alberta will pay, on behalf of the employers, the necessary Worker's Compensation Board premium in order to have all workers covered by the benefits of WCB. The employees will be responsible for the payment of all their own Alberta Health Care Insurance premiums, unless already covered under their parents' contract.

Work Experience

The farmer shall make every reasonable effort to provide the employee with a variety of farm tasks and experiences in order to make him as familiar as possible with farming operations.

Experience with thousands of employer/employee situations has shown that the first few hours on the job are the most important, but employers are often busiest when a new employee is starting a new job

Happy 25th birthday, local library

Most people associate the word "library" with a stuffy place that's crammed with books, featuring a stern lady bookkeeper who glares down her glasses if you make the least bit of noise.

But this is hardly the picture that can be applied to the Drayton Valley Municipal Library—a cheerful, bright, energetic place where youngsters and adults alike are attracted by good books and a friendly staff. It's also a facility that celebrated its 25th birthday last week, and by all indications is looking forward to providing another quarter century of outstanding service to the community.

The library has come a long way since the days when it first inhabited the old school house building, now the home for the Drayton Valley Playschool, on June 4 of 1957. The official opening was presided over by Mayor Robert Carlson, and current Mayor Bob Mayhew was on hand last Friday to cut the cake marking the library's 25th birthday.

It was a festive occasion giving staff and library board members the opportunity to meet and mingle with the patrons of this facility. Youngsters were treated to helium filled balloons and bookmarker souvenirs, in addition to well-stocked bookshelves which prompted them to peruse and browse before receiving the attractive giveaways.

Librarian Lois Peterson and assistant Karen Saunders were kept busy handing out cake and books, while longtime library worker Adeline Dockett and assistant librarian Doreen Ellery made sure patrons could find the reading materials they sought.

Mrs. Peterson said her staff works as a team, with other members including Sonia Elliot and student clerks Carol Dancy and Lorraine Saltarich. The library operates under the guidance of a five-member board, with chairperson Tom Sperling, members Brian Misiuly, Tim Melnychuk and Laurie Ztashuk, and council appointee Jim Wolff.

An interest by the Drayton Valley Women's Institute in establishing a local library led to its inception in 1957, and the facility was moved two years later to a space in the newly-completed Town office on 51st Avenue.

Overcrowding Leads to Decision

It operated through donations and with volunteer labor until it was taken under the Town's wing in 1964 as a municipal library. The facility joined the Yellowhead Regional Library system in 1977, opening the doors to a whole new world of books and some major headaches in the space department.

The space in the Town office was rapidly being diminished as more and more books came in, and Mrs. Peterson said this led to a number of large book sales to get rid of the excess supply. A larger library was urgently required, and this need was met when the Town purchased the old Fitzgerald Building.

Renovations in the space once occupied by the post office began in the fall of 1980, utilizing funds from the 75th anniversary grant, and the library moved into its new quarters in December of that year.

Mrs. Peterson said she has noted a number of changes in the library since she began here as librarian in January of 1981, including an overall circulation increase of 86 per cent. "We've had an overwhelming response to the new library facility since it's opened," she added.

One of the major changes which pleases her most is the increase in use of the facility by teenagers, for research, recreational reading and "because they just enjoy coming in," she said.

More and more patrons are developing what Mrs. Peterson calls a "library habit. If they have a question, a need for information, they check with the library." This has endorsed a policy to build an adequate reference centre, she added, and "it is beginning to shape up but there are many gaps yet to fill."

The library has an increasing number of families making a stop part of their established routine, Mrs. Peterson noted, and has been able to assist new residents in getting around in the community.

Hook top winner at 4-H achievement day

The local Stitch Rippers Sewing Club held its annual achievement day Saturday at the Provincial Building in Drayton Valley, and by the end of the session had awarded three of its members for their outstanding projects and contributions to the club over the past year.

Area resident Tracy Hook took home the bulk of the awards given, capturing trophies including one for the best kept records by a junior member.

Miss Hook also won an award for having the highest points at achievement day for a junior, and another for general proficiency with the club.

Another area resident, Betty MacKenzie, captured the award for the best kept records by a senior member. Miss MacKenzie also took home an award for the highest points at achievement day by a senior member.

Rounding off the list of major award winners was Laurel Pfannmuller, who captured the trophy for best first-year member in the club.

You cannot out-give God

By Rev. A.F. Irving

One of the great privileges and responsibilities of the Christian life is of giving in the Old Testament times the principle was the tithe or 10 per cent of your income. We encourage the same today not as a limit, but as a starting point.

As Jesus spoke to the people on one occasion he made this statement. "Give to others, and God will give to you. Indeed you will receive a full measure, a generous helping, poured into your hands—all you can hold. The measure you use for others is the one that God will use for you." (Luke 6:38.)

There is a saying regarding giving that goes like this: "I shovel out and the Lord shovels in and He has a bigger shovel."

Our guest speaker at the Church of God last week, Rev. Fred Mamaloff from Alaska, shared with us the following experience.

There was a senior citizen, a lady, who had very little to live on, only $25 a month from the welfare. Rev. Mamaloff encouraged her to tithe, so she put $2.50 in the offering plate.

A few on an adjoining property caused considerable damage to a shed on her property, so the town asked her to tear it down. She was unable to do this, so the town said they would for $25.

She called her pastor to see what to do. He in turn challenged the youth of the church to tear down the shed, haul it away and mow the lawn while they were there. As they were hauling the material away, a man who had just got in natural gas offered the several cords of wood so they hauled that in for her.

The men and women of the church didn't want to be outdone so went to work and ended up getting in insulation, new wall board and painting in the meantime the pastor wondered why the welfare was so low, so went to those responsible.

They discovered a computer error as it should have been $250.

So the next month with the lawn mowed and the house freshly painted, she got her cheque for $250.

This all came about because she was willing to accept the challenge and give $2.50.

A further effect was that she had no living relatives, and willed her property to the church without letting them know.

A few years later she passed away. The property was sold for $40,000, and was used to meet an urgent need the church faced in their relocation plans.

You cannot out-give God. If you don't believe me, try it for yourself.

Dorothy Anne White (Davey) passed away in Vancouver on May 14.

Dorothy was born near Sedgewick, Alta., in 1928. While still a very small child she moved with her parents Arthur and Fanny Davey to their homestead in the Victory district, which was some 10 miles south of Drayberry.

For a few years she attended the Victory School but completed her education in Evansburg where she finally moved to. She then left for Edmonton where she trained as a tailoress with the firm of LaVogue Bros.

It was here that she met and was married to Norman White in 1950. To them were born four children and they continued to live in and around Edmonton until they moved to Vancouver in 1980.

Dorothy will be well remembered by her many friends around Evansburg and other places she lived for her continued cheerfulness, despite multiple health problems of which she never complained.

The loved gardening and her home was surrounded by flowers. She was especially interested in collecting antiques, and she had a large collection of antique dolls and children's toys.

She is survived by her husband Norman, two sons, Allan, his wife Janet and their two girls of Ardrossan, Wayne and his wife Linda and their two children, a girl and a boy of St. John, N.B.; two daughters, Colleen and Norma, both at home, as well as her mother, Fanny Davey of Drayton Valley, and her brother Gerald and his family of Evansburg.

Her mother and brother attended the memorial service held in Vancouver on May 18.

Brightwood Cemetery needs more mowers

By Alma Johnson
727-2212

A group of relatives gathered together at the home of Glenn and Charlene Johnson on a Saturday evening recently to present them with a house warming gift and to also wish them Happy first anniversary.

The Wolenszyn-Wojciechowski reunion took place May 22 and 23 starting with a dance at Moon Lake Hall for the family and invited guests. Music was supplied by Victor and Sig and their friends from Calgary. On May 23 a number of relatives, friends and neighbors gathered at the farm for a visiting session, games of volleyball, darts and horseshoes and lots of eats and refreshments.

Ralph and Colleen Johnson, Jason and Heath of Lloydminster were home for the long weekend. They attended a reunion of the 1974 Grand Trunk graduating class, held at Park Court hall.

A number of area parents helped out with the Entwistle School track meet held May 28 at the school grounds.

The County of Parkland Employees' Association again held their annual picnic at the hall and grounds on May 29. Ball games and horseshoes were played, followed by a steak barbecue for supper. A dance finished off the day in fine style.

The Brightwood Cemetery had its first grass cutting bee of the season with seven or eight lawn mowers coming out. The next bee will be held June 15 at 7 p.m. Everyone is welcome!

Happy anniversary to all those celebrating in June, including Margaret and Stan Wolenszyn on June 10 and Chris and Alice and Terry and Heather Wolenszyn, both on June 20.

A miscellaneous bridal shower was held June 1 at the home of Vicki Romanchuk in honor of Carmel Enrich—bride-elect of Edward Law. A number of ladies gathered to bestow gifts and best wishes on the bride.

Mrs. Mysk of Drayton Valley was a guest at the home of her daughter, Margaret Wolenszyn.

Church float wins two top parade awards

Alder Flats news by Bernice Johnson 388-3863

A sell-out crowd packed the area for the toe tapping, lively western music and singing by Laura Vinson and Red Wing, following the Race Meet activities and barbecue supper May 22.

The day started off with a very nice and fair size parade at 1 p.m. Ma Seely headed the parade and was flag carrier.

Just one mishap marred the successful day's activities when the Ken Thirsk horse received a broken leg at the beginning of the chariot race. The rein decided to make its appearance just at the time when the youngsters were having their sheep riding contest.

The Covenant Church float took two first, for floats and best theme. The Cubs placed second in the first category and the Pioneer Girls third. For bicycles, Wally MacDorsky took first, Darla Elder second and Laura and Colleen Zakrzski third. Off-road section was Brian Lesnock first, Mark Macleca second and Dale Vass third.

Novelty section: Shannon Wilson first, Alder Flats Senior Citizens with Anita Habakuk portraying one of the two citizens, took second and Kylie Stenstrom received third place winings. Second place winner in the best theme category (which was Pachhorse to Pavement) was Brian Lesnock.

In the horse section first place went to Lawrence Lind of Buck Creek with his Belgians. Dorothy Wilson (and Lara) placed second and Ma Seely received third.

First and second money in wagons was split by Frank Hallet of Wainwright and Lyle Lister of Winfield tied for first position.

Third and fourth was split by Ken Thirsk of Buck Creek and Clare Clemmer of Wainwright. This was because of the accident at the start of the race. In chariots, first went to Robert Harden of Meilhurst, second to Snuffy Lareau of Wetaskiwin, and third to Hal Rogerstar of Winfield.

One-half mile open: first Tureen Pinyon of Breton; second Ruby Lister of Winfield; third Dana Pinyon of Winfield and fourth was Cindy Shipton of Lindale.

Cowhide race: first Gary Wilson and Kevin Seely of Drayton Valley; second Danny Wilson and Russell Seely; third Ray Trimble and Bill Gilbert of Rocky Mountain House and fourth was won by Hal Rupertas of Winfield and Chuck Empringham of Lindale.

Pack horse: first Doyle Seely, Corby Miller and Debbie Watson, second Ray Trimble, Bill Gilbert and Bill Moody, third J.L. Seely, Russell Seely and Ray Tompkins.

Walk, trot and run: first heat: first Debbie Watson, second Larry Seely of Drayton Valley, third Lloyd Shaver of Drayton Valley and fourth Corina Brodersen of Winfield. Second heat: first Russell Seely, second Chad Harden of Fahm, third Terry O'Connor of Wainwright and fourth place to Danny Harden of Fahm.

14.2 and under: first Tureen Pinyon, second Dana Pinyon, third Cindy Shipton and fourth Danny Harden.

Ceremony Held

May 30 at the Covenant Church Jennifer Christine and Ryan Leslie, children of Mark and Brenda Hardman, were dedicated to the Lord by Pastor Dwain Russell in a dedication service just prior to the morning worship service. Both maternal grandmother and parental grandparents were present for the special occasion, as well as both great grandmothers, Ted and Rev Maclean's mothers.

Visitors from the Gelson Society of Wetaskiwin, Fritz Emerson and Dale Unland and their wives were at the morning service, and both Fritz and Dale gave a short talk on the work this organization does.

Besides placing Bibles in hotels, motels, etc., they are well known for distributing Bibles to Grade 5 students throughout Canada as well as sending Bibles to foreign countries. The Unlands and Emersons were dinner guests at the Art Dreder home after services.

June 13 will be the Sunday School picnic after services, as well as a farewell to Dwain and Sharon Tissell who will conduct his final service here on that date. The pastor has flown by as quickly and this young couple have become a special part of our community and will be truly missed.

They will be replaced by Jeff and Darlene Anderson and family, with the installation service to take place June 20.

Mrs. Adam Schwengler enjoyed a three-week holiday in Germany where she visited her father and brother, and Adam's brother and sister and other relatives. Her sister from the States joined her there and together they enjoyed taking the touring bus to Amsterdam, Holland and Luxembourg. Everything was so nice and green there, and the wheat was about a foot high when she returned home on May 13.

Trail ride set

By Robert Smith

On May 2 we held our final meeting for this year.

We finished our plans for achievement day to be held July 1.

All the local 4-H clubs will be there to show all those concerned how much we have learned this year. This year achievement day will be held at Mr. and Mrs. Marke's indoor arena.

We are still in need of funds for trophies and prizes. Anyone interested in donating please call Mrs. Malks at 339-3758.

The Hawest parade will be held June 12 and all the 4-H clubs will be taking part.

On July 2 to 5 the Hayburners will be going on a trail ride camping trip in the Kootenay Plains.

On behalf of the Hayburners, I would like to thank our leaders and parents and all the other people who helped so much to make this a most successful and enjoyable year.

Our next meeting will be held Sept. 1 at the Moon Lake Hall. See you then.

Almanac—set traps

By Joanne Bunger

June 9 and 10 we are in third quarter and waning as well as in the semi-fruitful sign of Capricorn, the goat, which rules the knees.

Late planters can get in tubers of all types, plant potatoes, or plant those perennial roots bought on sale with a mind to rooting them well, rather than having a fantastic display of blooms this year.

You can start sewing a new summer wardrobe or buy property or antiques on speculation.

June 11 and 12 the moon is in the barren air sign of Aquarius as well as in third quarter and decreasing.

This is a good time for killing unwanted plant and animal life so set mouse traps, cultivate to destroy weeds, and get rid of insects with spray or organic means.

Hedges and other plants can be trimmed to retard their growth. Mow your lawn now and it won't grow back quite so fast.

Beauty-wise, think of your hair. Have it cut or colored or get a perm. Tooth may be filled. If you are fencing, this is a good time for setting fence posts in place. No amount of animals should rub them loose.

June 13 to 15 the moon is in the fruitful water sign of Pisces as well as moving from third to fourth quarter on June 14.

Think roots and plant anything you want to eat the roots of as well as anything you want well-rooted. This is also the time for watering and spreading on organic fertilizers (manure).

Wean children or animals. Write and mail letters.

June 16 the moon will enter the hot, dry sign of Aries, the ram, so don't plan to do any more planting. Get it all done before June 16, which is a good time to spread manure, weed, rototill and get rid of it once with spray or organic means.

Whose lucky week is it? Until June 21, our very luckiest chance takers are those born under the sun sign of Aquarius! This week, until June 14, the luckiest have birthdays between Feb. 7 and 14.

The remainder of the week—and until fourth quarter ends—the luckiest have birthdays between Feb. 15 till 18.

Anyone born under Aquarius should be on the lookout for stomach and eye problems. Clothes-wise, you suit the electric shades of blue and grey. As friends you will probably prefer those born between May 21 and June 20 or between Sept. 21 and Nov. 27.

To speculate with, choose partners born under one of those signs—Aquarius, Aries, Gemini, Leo, Libra or Sagittarius. You will note that not all friends will make good business partners!

Important days this week—Prince Philip has a birthday on June 10.

June 13 is St. Anthony's Day, and he is the patron saint of all who lose and misplace things, the poem being:

Dear St. Anthony, please come around
Something is lost and must be found

Like St. Francis, he preached kindness toward sick and unhappy animals and children.

Reinhold came to Canada from Germany in 1955 and Lois came in 1957 when they were married. They moved to Tomahawk in 1961.

Congratulations to Karen Fetting, daughter of Max and Trudy Fetting of Toma hawk, and David McKillop of Seba Beach, who were engaged recently. Their wedding date has been set for Sept. 4.

It could make you feel a bit more optimistic about owning your own home one day.

Do you sometimes feel that the dream of home ownership seems to be retreating further and further into the future?

If so, maybe knowing something about our programs can help make those dreams seem a little closer.

We're the Alberta Home Mortgage Corporation and our job is to help you afford the kind of housing you want.

We operate a number of programs that provide financing, and in some cases, subsidies, so that many low to to middle income families can enjoy owning their own homes.

Last year, there were about 38,000 housing starts in Alberta. AHMC, through its various programs, was involved in financing approximately 43% of these starts. Here are some of the ways in which we help.

The Core Housing Incentive Program & Modest Apartment Program

The Core Housing Incentive Program is designed to assist builders and developers who construct affordable apartments that many urban Albertans live in.

The Modest Apartment Program works in much the same way for Alberta's smaller centres.

Both programs have helped greatly in increasing the numbers of apartments available in Alberta.

The Alberta Family Home Purchase Program

This program is designed to help low to middle income families afford their own homes. Eligible families may receive a mortgage loan, with the added help of a Starter Homeowner Subsady and/or a Mortgage Subsady. These loans are available to builders wishing to construct homes for qualifying families. Eligibility requirements are that families must satisfy certain maximum income requirements, be a married couple or a single parent with at least one child, and be Alberta residents. Over 30,000 Albertan families have been enabled to own their own homes through this program.

The Residential Land Development Program & Revolving Trunk Servicing Program

Before housing can be commenced, the land must be serviced. The Residential Land Development Program is designed to assist builders and developers finance the servicing of new residential subdivisions. The Revolving Trunk Servicing Program is designed to help Municipalities build major trunk services.

Heritage Fund

The Alberta Home Mortgage Corporation plays an important part in providing Albertans with affordable housing. Its contribution in this regard is without parallel in Canada. For information about AHMC and its programs, contact your nearest AHMC office.

Buck Creek Playschool hosts graduation

By Carolyn Lind
543-3822

The end of April we left on our holidays, so I am way behind on the Buck Creek news. We enjoyed our trip into the pan handle of Idaho and the Northwestern tip of Washington state. After passing through southern Alberta and seeing the farmers working in their fields, and leaving two feet of snow on our garden, it was pleasant to see the winter wheat well above the ground.

It was interesting to note the use of caterpillars in the fields, most of which seemed to be hills. We then helped my mother in her return home to Alberta, after an absence of 20 years.

Upon our return we once again plunged into the activities required for the Community Association and Playschool. It is good to see the work progressing on the community hall. It is hoped the linoleum will be laid on the dance floor next week.

We are also pleased to see a ball club for the community. The B.C. Steeks are playing in the Evergreen League.

Sympathy is extended to the Charles Rozell family on the death of his brother Tom, of Black Diamond. They have also received word that their grandson, Stephen Chaffey of Spirit River, is doing very well after surgery in Edmonton.

The Donald Dean family went camping at Pewenti Lake for the Victoria Day weekend. Congratulations are extended to Sharon Thirsk on her marriage to Shayne Pye on May 1. They are making their home in Ledgepole.

The Winters family had Dwayne's parents, brother and family from Calgary visiting over the Victoria Day weekend.

The Playschool held their graduation on May 27. We started with a hot dog lunch at noon and then had the kindergarten class join them in a track meet with their mothers.

All the children won many ribbons for their placings in the events. The events included broad jump, bean bag toss, three-legged race with the mothers, and tug-of-war. The playschool class won the tug-of-war and then the mothers of each class lined up only to have the rope pull apart.

Fortunately, it was just a knot come undone and not that the mothers were strong enough to break the rope!

Everyone enjoyed this portion and then we returned to the school to warm up and see the boys receive their diplomas, saying they were ready now to attend kindergarten.

Ida Hurnett is staying with the Alan Lind family for a week. She came up for grandson Carl's graduation from playschool.

Making a spore print

By Linda Giroux

When reading about identifying mushrooms, you often find reference to the color of the spores, or the words spore print, and probably wonder just how one goes about collecting a spore print from the specimen in question.

To make a spore print, cut the stem off close to the cap, and lay the cap on a piece of white paper. Cover the cap with a jar or pan to protect from air currents, and leave for a few hours.

When the cap is removed you will see the spores deposited in a pattern of the gills, and the color of the spore print.

The oyster mushroom is one of the more easily identifiable mushrooms. It can be found any time from May until October, and should be looked for on old tree stumps or rotting logs.

The cap is from three to seven inches across, somewhat fan-shaped, often with a frilled appearance as the mushroom grows older. It is convex to nearly flat, smooth, moist and varies in color from whitish to grayish-brown.

The gills are whitish, long, and tapering. The stem is short, and more or less to one side of the cap. Sometimes the cap is direct ly attached to the trunk of the tree with no visible stem. The mushroom grows in large shelf-like clusters.

The spore print is a lilac color. The flesh of the oyster mushroom is firm and white.

To cook, dust the pieces with salt and pepper, then dip into beaten egg, then bread crumbs, and fry in smoking hot fat.

Acquisitions funded from current operations are recorded as expenditures in the year acquired. No depreciation is recorded on fixed assets.

Debenture debt

Debenture debt principal and interest payments are recorded as expenditures of the current functions to the combined operating revenues and expenditures statements. Accrued interest payable is not recorded.

Equity in fixed assets

The balance of equity in fixed assets consists of an accumulation of credits based on the following principles:

1) An amount equal to the fixed assets funded from current operations and government grants is added to the equity in fixed assets account

2) An amount equal to the principal repayments on debentures and other long-term debt is added to the equity in fixed assets account in the year of repayment

3) An amount equal to the original cost of fixed asset disposals is deleted from the equity in fixed assets account in the year of disposal.

Revenue

Revenue including taxes, grants and sale of goods and services is recorded on the accrual basis

A penalty of 18% is charged on any property taxes unpaid as of August of the current year. Commencing in 1982, the penalty will be 18% on the current year's levy outstanding at August 31 and 18% on arrears as of January 1st of each year.

2 DEBENTURE AMORTIZATION

As a result of the Education Amendment, a portion of the territory that is at present within the jurisdiction of the County of Parkland No. 31 is annexed to the City of Edmonton effective January 1, 1982. Based on current estimated figures, the County will lose 12.38 of tax revenue. The following assets and liabilities are also transferred to or assumed by the City of Edmonton:

	General Capital Fund	School Capital Fund
Fixed assets transferred	$810,000	$763,065
Debentures and capital loans assumed	783,244	448,760
Equity transferred	$ 26,756	$ 333,193

A grant equivalent to revenues lost in excess of 10% by the County will be provided in the first year to the County with provision for annual decline of 10% of the first year's grant.

5 COMPARATIVE FIGURES

Certain of the prior year's comparative figures have been reclassified to conform to the current year's presentation. The 1980 figures presented for comparison have been restated accordingly.

There are too many sales

By Joanne Rouger

Help, help! I must join Bargain Hunters' Anonymous. There are so many fantastic sales about I can't stop buying.

There was a time when stores kept the compulsive buyer in line by restoring cut sales at specific times—the end of a season, after Christmas, or when something was so hopelessly out of style it would look more in place in a museum than in a clothes closet.

Unless one felt the urge to wear wool mittens in May, stock up on Christmas ornaments in February, or wear mini skirts three years after showing the knees in public became a no-no, one had to pay regular price, which was no bargain.

Now sales have no rhyme nor reason. Everything is on sale all of the time if you just hit the right store.

Stylish things are on sale. Summery things are on sale. Everything is on sale.

Our dollar may be shrinking daily according to TV economists, but thanks to enormous sales, its buying power is expanding even faster.

There was a time when 10 per cent off sent a sale maniac's heart racing, and 20 per cent off was enough to make one stand in line waiting for the store to open.

This standing in line is very pleasurable, I must hasten to inform non-Bargain Hunters, for you get to compare good buys with those in front of and behind you while waiting. Often you get to hear of other almost as-good sales that are still on.

Those informal meetings in front of doors are coming to an end now, rapidly joining the horse-and-buggy era of nostalgia.

We no longer have to rush to sales. The sales wait for us now.

Even 50 per cent off makes a veteran Bargain Hunter shrug shoulders these days, followed by a comment like, "That's all they've reduced it?"

While 60 per cent off is something one can take a look at, with 70 per cent off, perhaps one should buy if there aren't many. Otherwise go home and think it over.

Eighty per cent off is still a bargain and should be bought if one has a use for it, and would have bought it at 10 per cent off three years ago.

Ninety per cent off is the coming norm. At this point one should buy on speculation. It might make a good gift, or failing that, you can use it to impress others with your affluence when you donate it to a rummage sale or charity auction.

With 100 per cent off, now that is where we must be heading. When it comes, we'll be in the grab-and-run era of society. Somehow I don't quite know how it will work, but then I don't understand how voices travel over telephone wires either. Progress is to be enjoyed, not understood.

Actually I don't understand the theory behind sales. If everyone knows it will be reduced later on anyway, why bother with the time lapse called a regular price?

Lowly cucumber makes dish

Usually I don't print recipes I haven't tried, but the following is so good and so simple, I decided to use it anyhow.

This was one of the dishes at a recent mother-daughter banquet and it caused quite a stir as many of the other ladies and I tried to decide exactly what was in it!

The flavor was so delicate and everything blended so well, that the ingredients were a mystery until we asked ... and found it was partly just lowly cucumber.

Between the Covers

By Lois Peterson

During the summer the library will be open to the public the same number of hours as last year. Please note these summer hours, effective June 28 to Sept. 6 inclusive.

Mondays 5:30 to 7:30 p.m.
Wednesdays 12 noon to 4 p.m.
Fridays 3 to 5 p.m.

The library will be closed on official holidays July 1, Aug. 2 and Sept. 6. Regular hours of operation will resume Sept. 7.

By offering library patrons a variety of hours during the summer (one mid-day, one afternoon and one early evening shift), we hope the hours will be convenient for the majority of users.

Miss Brenda Hamilton Re-[illegible]

Loan periods will again be extended to four weeks during the summer, beginning June 28 and ending Sept. 6. So enjoy your holidays this year—and take a book along!

Have you noticed the changes in the library? We have recently added new book shelves and, in an effort to use space more effectively, have moved the adult fiction to the east side near the reference section; adult and junior non fiction are now shelved together.

Combining these two collections will give students and adults more immediate access to a wider variety of materials.

Juniors will find their hard cover fiction, adventure series and paperback books located behind the check-out counter. The aisles are now wider for browsers to look and read with ease. There is room to sit on the carpet, too! Be comfortable!

Immediately behind the check-out counter, patrons will find a section of encyclopedia which may be borrowed on a one-week basis.

We are trying to make the library more convenient and comfortable for you. Please let us know how you like the new arrangement of materials.

"Patron's Choice" winner for the month of May is Dineen Tyler. Entries are now being accepted for the June draw.

Book sale continues. Assorted adult titles are 50 cents each or three for $1. Stock up for summer reading.

Aloe vera plant yields many myths, uses

By Janice McGregor
542-5380

Aloe is a genus of plants [illegible] and Africa but grown in many warm climates including the southern United States. As well as being popular houseplants, the genus includes a few species which are used by the pharmaceutical and cosmetic industries. One of these species is aloe vera.

There are many alleged uses for aloe vera and many forms in which the product is marketed and promoted. Two parts of the plant are used: the latex or juice which drips from the plant when cut and the mucilaginous gel from inside the plant. The juice is used in pharmaceuticals and the gel is more commonly used by the cosmetic industry.

Originally, the plant and its extracts were used primarily on the surface of the skin in the treatment of abrasions and cuts, burns and scalds, pain from insect bites and stings, and wound [illegible].

More recently, claims have been made as to the benefits of the internal use of aloe vera to relieve gout, arthritis, ulcers, dermatitis, poison ivy, psoriasis, bleeding, all types of skin disease, tuberculosis, radiation burns, viruses, warts, bacteria (meaning it is bactericidal) yeast infections, prostatos, parasites, sunburn and itching.

The promotion of aloe vera products is by word of mouth. Consumers frequently hear about aloe vera from friends or at a sales promotion. Much of the information received by consumers is in the form of testimonials rather than reproducible research.

Aloe vera does have some effect externally and the safety of external use is well established. The properties that contribute to the effectiveness of aloe vera relate to its role as a [illegible].

The claims for the beneficial effects of the internal use of aloe vera juice have not been adequately documented. Aloe vera products [illegible] by the Aloe vera is a succulent belonging to the lily family. This is the same family that boasts the sanseveria, or aptly named cast iron plant. Like the cast iron plant, the aloe thrives on a degree of benign neglect.

Overwatering is far more likely to kill it than underwatering. Aloe vera plants can be obtained from many nurseries and florists. A good potting mix for the aloe is one part garden soil with some crushed eggshells thrown in.

All succulents like to have good drainage, so the bottom of the pot should be lined with pebbles or pot shards. A top covering of fine gravel also helps the plant thrive.

Once well established and mature, your aloe plant will reward you with more than balm for the body. It will also prove beauty for the eye as it blooms with a tall spike of flowers.

Timber proposals promised

The future of forestry development in the Brazeau timber region west of Drayton Valley has yet to be decided by the provincial government, but details of proposals received by the province were expected to be released late Tuesday in an announcement by the Department of Energy and Natural Resources.

Local MLA Shirley Cripps told the Review Monday the government should release details from eight proposals on June 15. Submissions for development of a forestry industry in the Brazeau region were called for last year, she said.

He'll fight

By Monica Dick

Bill Roseberry hates tent caterpillars, and he says he's even more depressed by the fact they'll be turning into moths in the next few weeks to make life for Drayton Valley residents even more miserable.

But Mr. Roseberry also says he is not going to sit back and let these fuzzy little beasties run their course. He's set to fight back, and he's looking for support from local citizens in a spraying campaign he's hoping to launch to combat the caterpillar problem.

His fight actually began about a week and a half ago when he offered his services, and those of several willing volunteers, to provide the labor needed to take the spraying through town. "We offered to spray if we could use the town equipment," he said.

Council turned down a motion at its June 2 meeting to spend $2,000 on a spraying program, noting there were not budgeted funds and the problem had passed its peak.

Mr. Roseberry said his original offer still stands, with the addition of the spray compound if necessary. This week he began what he calls a "plea for help" to gather signatures and support from residents, and the petitions were prominently displayed in several local businesses following distribution Monday afternoon.

"It's not really a petition," Mr. Roseberry noted. "It's not in any way meant to be anything against the town—we just want to show there are people out there willing to help with this problem."

Mr. Roseberry said he plans to continue collecting signatures for the remainder of this week, and has booked the Legion Hall for Sunday at 8 p.m. for a public meeting to discuss solutions and to set up a committee.

GETTING OVER THE BAR was the main object of the event during the annual track meet day held at the Colonels School in Drayton Valley, but this youngster seemed to manage the hurdle without any problems. (Photo by Dave Reid)

Plaza plans midway, pet show

By Roxanne Greenley

Those who missed the midway with last weekend's Blowout Days need not wait until next June for similar events as the Dodson Plaza will be having its own celebration from June 14 to 17.

The events planned for the four-day celebration will include a midway, food concessions, in-store specials and a mutt show.

According to organizers for the event, the mutt show, which is to be held on Thursday, will be one of the highlights of the celebration.

"This will be the first mutt show ever to be held in Drayton Valley," said organizer Irene Mussell.

She added although there have been other dog shows in Drayton Valley they have been for purebreds. This one will be different, however, as the main purpose of the show is to have children appreciate animals.

"It will help them appreciate the responsibility of owning animals," said Mrs. Mussell.

With this objective in mind, pamphlets concerning the proper care, feeding and grooming of dogs will be handed out. Also, there may be a possibility of one of the local veterinarians, Dr. Allison Chiswell, performing an obedience training demonstration.

There will also be a grooming demonstration in conjunction with a display by Purina dog food, said Mrs. Mussell.

Pet Show Set

She went on to say that the mutt show will begin at 4:30 p.m. on Thursday afternoon. There will be a variety of categories in the show and will range from the most obedient dog or the one that knows the most tricks to the one with the longest tail or which has the youngest handler.

There are 15 categories in all with prizes over $10 in value for each category, said Mrs. Mussell.

The prizes have all been donated by local merchants and the grand prize will be a dog basket worth over $30.

Mrs. Mussell added that those interested in entering their dogs can register up until Wednesday at Penney's Drug Mart. Information needed for the registration will include the name of the handler, their age, whether the dog is a small or large breed and the name of the dog.

Pre-registration is not compulsory, however, and everyone is invited to enter.

The mutt show will be held in front of Fields store in the Dodson Plaza.

Planche to speak at public meeting

Provincial economic development minister Hugh Planche has accepted an invitation to speak in Drayton Valley this month, and local Town officials are hoping his address will be of interest to prompt a large attendance of residents at this session.

Mr. Planche will deliver a speech on the future of economic development in Alberta, and how it could relate to Drayton Valley, in a public session to be held at the Rec Plex on June 24 beginning at 7 p.m.

Councillor Jim Wolff said Mr. Planche will be on hand until 8:30 p.m., but added he was unsure whether there would be a general question and answer period slated for the session.

Mr. Planche's speech should be of interest "to business people who are considering expansion, thinking about investments or any other kind of business moves," councillor Wolff noted.
